

The Mysterious Land

Suddenly an eagle emerged from the misty grey clouds and flew swiftly over the mysterious figure's head. The lone person's trusty steed trotted on quickly into the dark and gloomy forest. The wanderer was frightened and his horse got spooked and gently walked on. As the black figure rode on his horse he entered a deserted plain.

It was raining and there were only a couple of trees for cover. The trees were thick like the earth's crust and the rain that fell was as clear as crystal. The lone figure felt that he was getting closer to the sacred temple.

Then in front of the handsome figure he saw a vast temple shining in the bright sun. When he got to the temple the figure felt a bit nervous. On the cobbled stone floor there were ancient carvings and bulky grey columns. Suddenly the man saw a shimmering light, it felt as if it was going to blind him. When the man went through the light he saw that he was in the Forbidden Land. The spindly arches of the bridge in front of him looked like the rib-cage of a T-Rex and the sand below glowed like the stars in space.

When the young man arrived at the magical temple his heart skipped a beat and his horse whinnied in fright. The bold door opened. He entered the room it felt like a shadow was following him in the dark and then the door close, he could see nothing just pitch black there was a massive spiral stair case which had giant metal spikes sticking out of it at the bottom there was a large pool of water it was blue like a sapphire at the side of it there was a dome with a beam of light shimmering in the sun he stopped and carried a rug to a alter and ripped it of under the rug was a beautiful lady with black hair and a lovely white dress suddenly green reapers emerged from the ground he sawed out his sword out from his scabbard and turned it all of them was dead then there was a loud voice said "HOW DARE YOU ENTER MY LAND" "sorry I just heard that you can bring the dead to life heir" "YOU ARE RITE " said the strange voice "BUT IF YOU WANT ME TO BRING HER BACK YOU NEED TO DO ME A FAVOR " "bring it on " said he loner " what is it ?" he said "YOU MUST KILL THE STONE GIANT" "ok " he said so of he went to slay the giant he trotted to the top of the mountain he went up some stairs and up some green encrusted vines and climbed up 4 boulders finally he got to the top and he saw a colossal armed monster its eyes were green like a emerald he charged at it and climbed up its leg and stabbed it in the back of the leg then he climbed up on to a platform and then climbed up on to the head and stabbed it in the head the monster was dead when he got to the dome there was a dove flew into the room and suddenly the maiden awoke from a deep sleep they lived happily ever after.
